

Workforce Dimensions

Vision

Seamlessly unlock strategic business insights

Workforce Dimensions™ Vision empowers business leaders, operational executives, and regional managers with the reliable data they need in order to understand labor issues and make strategic decisions. By combining the hidden value of your workforce data with third-party data and your choice of business intelligence tools, you can get an organizationwide picture of your company. With Vision, your business analysts and data scientists have the tools they need in order to perform strategic analysis and reporting that delivers actionable insights.

Workforce Dimensions Vision takes advantage of the power and security of the Google Cloud, giving you complete control over how your data is being used. Data is pulled from Workforce Dimensions™ suite from Kronos via APIs and is easily transferred to your Google Cloud environment. From there, you can use your own business intelligence tool or Google tools to build visualizations or load the data into your enterprise data warehouse. Because you own the environment, you can ensure you're meeting regulatory requirements and industry guidelines for the security and privacy of the data.
